Colleges May Go to an 11th Game

By TOM IFFY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A change to permit colleges to play an 11th football game and tightening of recruiting practices face delegates to the 64th National Collegiate Athletic Association today.

Those proposals are among the 41 on the agenda of the three-day NCAA convention. Action on the changes is not expected before Wednesday.

Prior to the official convention opening, however, the NCAA Council continued for two more years the probation against Florida State University's strong basketball team for recruiting violations committed while the club was on a year's probation.

Following a Sunday meeting, it was announced that council extended until Oct. 29, 1971, the probation against FSU for recruiting violations and off-season basketball practice involving Coach Hugh Durham.

The NCAA Council said the new violations occurred last May when a business organization in which "A representative of the university's athletic interests has considerable holdings" provided round-trip air transportation to three prospective athletes from their homes to the organization's headquarters "and lavishly entertained them" at various times in the presence of Durham and one of his assistants.

The new action against FSU, which has an 11-2 record this season and was considered a candidate for either the NCAA or the National Invitation Tournament, means the school will not be eligible in post season tournaments either this year or next.

The proposal permitting colleges to schedule 11 games, instead of the present 10, is sponsored by the Pacific-8, Western Athletic, Southern and Atlantic Coast conferences, all of which are trying to meet the rising cost of intercollegiate athletics.

The change, which is permissive rather than mandatory, is expected to receive NCAA approval but not without a fight from the smaller schools which believe a better way to cut costs is to limit recruiting.

Under proposed legislation, the number of visits a high school youngster who is being considered for a scholarship could make to a college—at the school's expense—would be two. A limit also would be put on the number of persons accompanying the athlete, presumably ruling out girl friends, among others, from the entourage.

Another proposed amendment would strip away the autonomous power of the various rules committees by permitting the NCAA Executive Committee to review their actions to determine whether they are appropriate for financial or administrative reasons.

Some football coaches believe the amendment, if approved, would give the executive committee the opportunity to change the rules to limit two-platoon football. The NCAA denies that it would.

Nevertheless, the proposal is expected to cause a furor when it comes to the floor.

In a report Sunday, Forest Evashevski, chairman of the Television Committee, said college football during 1969 received television ratings that were 11 per cent better than they were during 1968.

Evashevski said college football, shown over the American Broadcasting Co., reached a weekly average of 8.1 million homes for the 17 games it broadcast. During 1968, college football reached 7.3 million homes and 6.5 million during

Junior Boys Also Beat Smackover

By BILL MOORE
Saturday night in Jones Field House, the Hope-B-Lizards shellied the Smackover Buckaroos, 54-35, in the first of two games.

The Lizards record now stands at 3 and 1 and they play at Arkadelphia next Saturday.

After a basket by Lynn Norton with 5:31 left in the first quarter, the Lizards never trailed, using four sophomores and one junior as the starting five.

Tim White got things started off with two points and Norton added three for a 5-3 lead that was never relinquished.

Then Tommy Webb hit a jump shot and free throw, Norton a layup, White a charity shot, and Norton sacked two, for a 13-3 lead.

Smackover then called time with 2:01 left, to regroup their forces, not scoring in some four minutes.

White hit three points and Steve Harris two to end the first quarter with Hope in command 18-6.

The Lizards added 13 points in the second segment on the shooting of Roger Newton, Norton, and Harris, while yielding Smackover 11, to lead at the half, 31-17.

The Lizards came out even more charged up in the second half, and before it was over almost everyone got into the act.

First Webb and Harris hit free throws, and Norton and Harris a basket each for a 38-19 lead. Norton, Harris, and Newton had two each for a 44-23 cushion with one quarter to go.

At the outset of the fourth quarter, White hit two charity shots and then the reserves started coming in. Sophomores guard Tommy Frazier hit two baskets and Newton and Harris finished the game with a basket each.

The defense did a good job in holding the Smackover scoring and the offense was consistent on their shooting and also had a 66 percent on the free throw charts.

Kansas City Pulls Stunning Upset Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "He aged five years this week. You looked into his face and you knew it wasn't the same Len Dawson."

Those words tell better than any the strain that the Kansas City quarterback lived with last week before he went out Sunday in front of a sellout crowd of 80,998 and some 50 million television viewers and led the Chiefs to a stunning 23-7 Super Bowl victory over the heavily favored Minnesota Vikings.

For those words are the words of Johnny Robinson, Dawson's longtime friend and roommate who watched his buddy turn into a solitude-seeking recluse in the cramped quarters of room 838 at the Fontainebleau Hotel during the week after reports linked his name with the nationwide gambling probe.

"Whenever I looked at him it wasn't the relaxed, easy-going Len Dawson I saw," said Robinson. "He was tense; he wanted to be in solitude. It was a tremendous pressure week for him. It was bothering him."

"He had some important things to think about."

Dawson thought both about the stories he saw in the newspapers every day following his admission that he had a "casual acquaintance" with a Detroit restaurateur arrested in connection with the gambling probe—and he thought about his wife and two children.

"Lenny was more concerned about his wife and kids back in Kansas City than himself," said Jacky Lee, the Chiefs' reserve quarterback. "They were having to put up with an awful lot of stuff. Lenny knew the public was going to read more into it than is there."

With all that on his mind, Dawson still managed to deal with the other problem he was facing—the Vikings, spending 1½ hours Saturday night going over films with Coach Hank Stram, something the two never do the night before a game. But then Dawson was having trouble remaining calm.

"I had diarrhea," Dawson admitted after the game. "I started to go to bed about 10, but I couldn't sleep. I got up about 4 and read the sports pages to see what people were saying about the game. I still couldn't sleep. I don't think I slept two hours all night."

"I guess it was a 24-hour virus."

Others will guess that Dawson's sleepless night was the result of something else, but no one who saw him perform against the Vikings in the Sugar Bowl would even have thought about what Robinson, Lee and Dawson himself revealed in the game's aftermath.

For during the 60 minutes that he was on the field, Lenny Dawson was Lenny Dawson, quarterback.

Jan Stenerud kicked field goals of 48, 32 and 25 yards and Mike Garrett scored on a five-yard run for a 16-0 halftime lead that gave every indication that the American Football League champions were heading for a stunning upset of the two-touchdown favorites.

But those 60 minutes belonged to Dawson.

And not even a dental he made to President Nixon when he talked to the White House after the game can blur the picture.

"Thank you, Mr. President, I really appreciate it," said Dawson in a low voice as he accepted congratulations. "But it wasn't me, sir, it was the whole team that did it."

It was the whole team that did it, but the glare of the spotlight was on Dawson's shoulders, and he responded.

He was almost as perfect as a passer can be, directing the club almost flawlessly and completing 12 of 17 passes for 142 yards while winding up his performance, and the scoring, with a 46-yard touchdown throw to Otis Taylor.

Bobcats Outgun Smackover

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer
For their first win against a Class AA school, the Hope Bobcats outgunned the hustling Smackover Buckaroos 77-62 before a good crowd at Jones Field House last Saturday night.

Hope never trailed the taller Bucks after jumping out front 6-0, and the win left the Bobcats 8-5 before entering 4-AA West competition this weekend.

Friday night will bring the state champion Camden Lincoln Tigers to Jones Field House, and the Cats will travel to Arkadelphia on Saturday evening.

After guard Parker Powell hit a baseline 18-footer, big John Dudley broke open underneath for two baskets and the 6-0 lead.

Overconfident at the start, Smackover quickly called time with 6:42 left in the quarter and tried to regroup with Coach Charles Coleman.

Bucks Eddie Jones and James Bolton hit long jumpers around another Dudley layup, and after three minutes it was 8-4 Hope.

Then Bobcat guard Ronnie Massanelli, the 5-11 junior starting for the first time this season, stole a pass and converted a crisp shot for a 10-4 margin.

Ronny Brown hit a 10-footer and David Briggs canned two foul shots to make it 14-5, before Massanelli swished a 15-footer on the back line for an 18-7 spread with 1:03 on the clock.

It was 20-11 at the quarter, but Smackover soon showed its shooting ability to play catch-up ball. Jones made four points to cut it to 24-17, before a 6-2 spree made it 30-19 with 4:24 left in the half.

Hope could have run off with the game then, John Dudley committed his third foul and had to leave. Still, things seemed good enough when Briggs sacked a long jumper for a 36-26 lead.

Those last two minutes before intermission were frozen cold for the Cats, though, as mistakes entered the picture. David Halligan hit six straight points, and Smackover pulled up to 36-32 with Hope leading at the resting point.

By this time Bobcat Coach John Ross had realized that having the 6-6 Dudley and 6-5 Muldrew in action was imperative, and the former returned for the second-half tipoff.

Coleman returned with some fired-up Buckaroos, though, and 6-2 forward Dennis Ray suddenly nailed two jumpers in succession to make it 41-38. The teams traded free shots, before Dudley sank two charity ones at 4:52 of the third period for a 44-39 advantage.

Here the half-court pressing of the Hope defense came through, and an interception by Larry Muldrew and two passes set up a driving drop shot by big Larry, who was fouled in the process.

The basket had stretched the margin to 46-39, but Dudley rebounded Muldrew's stray free throw and stuffed it back for a nine-point cushion at 48-39.

Some turnovers here again prevented Hope from putting it away, as Halligan and Johnny Williams scored to reduce the difference to 54-48 a minute before the three-quarter mark.

Three points made it 57-48 Hope entering the finale, and Muldrew's two foul shots seemingly opened the gate 59-49 with 7:29 to go.

Smackover kept plugging, though, and got back to 59-53 with 5:32 showing. Then, picking up a loose ball, Massanelli netted two from 15 feet and was complemented by a corner set by Parker Powell.

Now it was 63-53 at 4:50, but seconds later Muldrew rebounded a missed free throw and put it back in for some breathing room of 65-53 earlier. Now the Bucks had to press, and they lost it again.

One more Massanelli bottled from 20 feet away, and Hope fans rejoiced with the 67-53 lead as 2:45 remained. In a frenzied rally Smackover got back to 69-61 before Briggs and Muldrew (who got 16 in the last half) got three each to end it 75-61 before a final layup by Lee Davis sealed it 77-62.

Actually it was a very important victory for Hope, coming after the tough 32-47 loss to Magnolia last Friday. Also it established the Bobcats' competency for 4-AA against Smackover, who has made the state tournament the last three years.

With only Hope, Arkadelphia, Fairview, Arkadelphia, and Camden Lincoln in 4-AA West, the race of eight conference games in the double round-robin should be a dilly.

Now the Bobcats could open it Friday before the home fans

Los Angeles Cagers Are Believed Best

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Now," said Billy Casper, "I guess I can go to work on the second million."

The placid, rock-steady veteran who went into—for him—a mild decline last year, has just defeated bitterly disappointed Hale Irwin in a sudden-death playoff for the $20,000 first prize in the Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

The earnings pushed his career total to $1,001,924.48, second only to Arnold Palmer on the all-time list.

"You just go out and do the best you can," said the quiet, gentlemanly Casper, whose mild, unassuming manner at one time gained him the title "golf's invisible man."

It was a heart-breaking loss for the 24-year-old Irwin, a former football star at Colorado who never before had finished higher than 10th in a regular tour event.

Irwin, the third-round leader, held a two-stroke lead with four holes to play. Then "everything I've worked for two years, everything I had hopes for, slipped through my fingers."

He bogeyed the 15th when he was short of the green and had only a one stroke lead.

Casper finished a few minutes later with a one-over-par 72 for 276 and was in the clubhouse relaxing and listening to a radio account of Irwin's progress on the final few holes.

"I can get just as excited about this young man winning," Billy said, "as I could about winning it myself."

Moments later Irwin pushed his tee shot into the rough on 18, hit a tree limb coming out, was on in three and two-putted for a bogey that gave him a closing 73 for 276 and forced a sudden-death playoff.

They went to the 11th. Both drove the fairway and Irwin put his second shot in the fringe about 12 feet from the pin. Casper laced a seven iron 141 yards to within four feet. Irwin missed his putt and the quiet veteran of 17 years on the tour dropped his for his 43rd tour triumph.

Casper won only two official tournaments last year and made $106,000—his lowest figure

South Team Winner in Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (AP) — "It was just our day," said Texas Tech's Denton Fox of his South team's 35-13 victory over the North in the 24th annual Hula Bowl football classic Saturday.
"We were luckier, probably, because we're not that much better a team," the 6-foot 5-inch back said. "Although I think we were better balanced—and that Anderson is a really great player, believe me."
Fox was referring to quarter-back Bob Anderson of Colorado, voted the game's outstanding back. He passed for one touchdown, ran 13 yards for another and set up a third with a 19-yard run to the North's five yard line. He completed nine of 16 passes for 135 yards and ran 11 times for 57 more.
As for Anderson, the 210-pound All-American couldn't say enough good about Heisman trophy winner Steve Owens. "With a runner like Owens, I should have completed every pass. He's a real, honest-to-goodness All-American, that's for sure. I'm thankful to have been on the same club with him. A runner like him sure helps a quarterback."

Owens of Oklahoma gained 74 yards on 17 carries for the South.
Floyd Reese of UCLA, named outstanding lineman, said the North squad was a tough bunch to beat but that the South's "offensive and defensive lines seemed to play just a shade better."
Mike Phipps, Heisman runner up for his action as Purdue's quarterback, was considered the strong point of the North squad.

Champions in Host Ski Club
MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP) — Chuck Bent, a Dartmouth college junior, and Jane Kenyon of the host ski club are the champions of the 23rd annual Louise Orvis Slalom Derby at Big Bromley.
Bent won one race and finished second in another to win top honors during the weekend.

Bulldogs Get Year Started Off Right

1970 was started right for the Bulldogs of Saratoga on Friday January 9.
The Junior girls were victorious, but Fouke kept fighting until the end. Saratoga's Cheatham led with 20 points. Hughes came in right behind with 14 points and Clayton had 4 points. Fouke's G. Larey led them also with 20 points. Crabtree comes next with 7 points and A. Larey with 2.
The guards of both teams kept a close hold on the forwards, a 38-29 win.
The Senior girls were fairly close the first half, but Saratoga got a good lead and gained victory in the last quarter by 10 points. Hawthorne led Saratoga with 30 points. Fontaine came next with 16 points and Young made 5 points. Fouke's high scorer, Peasy, made 26 points. Thomas was next with 9 and Lay made 2. The Saratoga guards, McJinkins, Lively, and McCor-kie held Fouke's forwards back during the entire game giving their forwards a chance to gain. The final score was Saratoga Bulldogs leading with 51 points to Fouke's 41 points.

The final game of the night was the Senior boys game. Saratoga's high scorer, Jimmy Fincher, led with 23 points. Pierce came next with 9 points. McCorkle made 8. Charley Caldwell had 7 points. Mike Prescott and Franky McJunkins each had 6 points. Gary Caldwell and Steven McJunkins each had 4 and Bowles had 3 points. Fouke's team had Thomas for highscorer of 14 points. Larey was next with 6. Teer made 5. Parker and Smith each made 3 while Sams, Mills, and Cutshall each had 2 points. Coach Sanders pulled the main team at the half with a lead of 27 points. Victory was for the Bulldogs with a final score of 75 to 37.

Juvenile Horse Comes Through in Fine Style

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Displaying his winning form in his final race as a juvenile, My Dad George, a son of Dark Star, the 1953 Kentucky Derby winner, did it again in his debut as a 3-year-old, or Derby-age colt.
Winner of James H. Bright Memorial Handicap in his previous start last Dec. 13, My Dad George won the $28,450 Dade Metropolitan Handicap Saturday at Tropical Park under highweight of 124 pounds.
My Dad George, owned by Raymond M. Curtis and ridden by Mike Venezia, ran the 1 1/16 miles in 1:42 for a 1/4-length margin over Frank McDonnell's Runson Run, 115, with Graham French's Bold Day, 118, another neck back. The winner, first in four of 14 1969 starts, returned a winning mutual of $4.40.
Dr. Robert G. Austin's 5-year-old Frederick Street shot through an opening along the rail and won the $27,450 Florida Handicap for fillies and mares at Liberty Bell Park by 3/4-length over winner Parn's Shamrock Peep, with M. Harold's Key Laidlaw third.

C.O. Cokemith's Red Mon, 113, ridden by Eldon Nelson, withstood a stretch drive by John A. Herberger's Juvenile John, highweight at 121, to win the $25,450 six-furlong Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie in 1:10, with Peter Fuller's Parchment, 117, third. The winner returned $10.60.
In other national features, Doc's T.V., 113, won the $16,000 Super Bowl Handicap at the New Orleans Fair Grounds and Moger Monger, $18.40, scored in the $7,500 Providence Handicap at Narragansett Park.

An old-timer is a fellow who recalls when the dry cleaner dusted-out pockets and cuffs before pressing the suit.

Arbitration: Big-Brother Way to Cool Adult Hassels

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Recall when you were young and got into red-hot arguments with other kids over things like who owned how much of the tree house? Then you may also remember that such hassles were frequently settled by an older brother who suggested a fair solution and made each of you promise to stick to it.

Essentially this same solution is being used thousands of times each year to settle arguments between adults. The process is known as arbitration and offers an inexpensive and speedy alternative to taking the argument to court.

Let's assume, for example, that a contractor has just completed an addition to your home. The final $1,000 payment is due on the job, but you and the contractor are smack in the middle of a disagreement over the adequacy of the foundation.

You think it's faulty; he thinks it's fine—and he wants the rest of his money.

If neither of you will give way, the result is apt to be a civil suit with all the attendant delays, legal fees and court appearances. But if both of you can agree to the method, you can settle the matter by arbitration.

The bulk of arbitration work is handled by the American Arbitration Association, which has offices in major cities across the country. It maintains a panel of some 16,000 men and women who stand ready to serve as arbitrators.

The AAA's fees are based on a sliding scale and geared to the amount of money in contention. Many simple cases are settled for less than $100, with the money going to administer the operation. Arbitrators work without pay.

To see how it works, let's go back to our example of the addition to your home. Your first step is to convince the contractor to accept arbitration as a fair solution. (An easier way would have been a clause in the contract specifying that any dispute go to arbitration.)

On forms supplied by the AAA, you outline the dispute and the amount of money at issue. You then receive a list of arbitrators experienced in residential construction. Each party numbers them in sequence according to his preference and from the lists the AAA chooses a man to hear the case.

A hearing date is then set, and you each are offered a chance to present your side of the case. If it seems necessary, the arbitrator may even visit the site of the work. When he is satisfied as to the facts, he closes the hearing.

A decision is usually rendered within three to four weeks.

When ceded to the United States in 1867, Alaska's population was estimated at 30,000, of whom less than 1,000 were white. In 1967, the population was estimated at 272,000, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

TIERS OF TIRES are checked for tears or other defects. An illusion of movement is created by this arrangement of "green" or unvulcanized tires awaiting curing at Kelly-Springfield's Maryland plant.

Pratt Smith

dered within three to four weeks. Arbitrated judgments arrived at under stipulated rules are vested with all the authority of judicial verdicts in many states.

Arbitration is suitable for almost all contract disputes, disagreements with insurance companies and complaints against such professional people as doctors and dentists. If the case is serious enough to warrant it, a panel of arbitrators may take the place of the single expert.

If you take a disagreement to arbitration, you may be surprised by the people who show up to render a decision. One actor caught in a contract dispute found himself face to face with Boris Karloff!

Oswald: "The first step in playing the dummy is to try to count enough tricks to give you your contract. Thus South should try to count to 10 before playing the first card from dummy with today's hand."

Jim: "He sees three easy tricks outside the trump suit. He also sees what looks like five more in the trump suit. He has to find two more somewhere."

Oswald: "One place to look is in diamonds. He goes up with dummy's ace and notes that East plays the king. If the king is a singleton?"

Jim: "If the six spot lead is a genuine fourth best the king was a singleton and diamonds aren't going to develop. There is another line of play which is to use his own trumps to ruff clubs. South decides to use that line of attack to bring in a total of seven trump tricks."

Oswald: "Let's follow that line. South ruffs a club at trick two, enters dummy with the ace of hearts, ruffs another club, enters dummy with the king of hearts and ruffs a third club to give him six tricks in with two trumps left in his own hand and three in dummy. He can make the hand if he gets four more trump tricks."

Jim: "He can insure this by leading a second diamond at this time. It won't matter which opponent wins or what is led back. He is going to be able to ruff another club in his own hand and still score tricks with his ace of trumps and dummy's king and queen."

Kidnapers Caught at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Police burst into an apartment Sunday night and captured two men charged in the kidnaping of a Texarkana girl as the men lay on a bed watching "The FBI" television program.

The last of five men sought in the kidnaping, the two were identified as Booker T. Burkhalter, 24, alias Terry Anderson, of Dallas, Tex., and Jonnie Tasby, 21, of Lafayette County, Ark.

Herbert Hoxie, special agent in charge of the FBI in Arkansas, said the two offered no resistance. Officers said they weren't armed.

They had been charged earlier in Thursday night's kidnaping of Karen Vickers, 16, pretty, auburn-haired daughter of a Texarkana, Ark., grocer. Police said she was taken from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Vickers, by three armed and masked men and held for 26 hours for $40,000 ransom.

The girl was freed unharmed Friday night at a Texarkana motel. The ransom was not paid.

The FBI had said that arrested earlier and held on charges of kidnaping for ransom and crossing a state line in doing so were Paul Lawrence Bryant, 21, and Joe Willie Feggett, 25, both of Dallas, and Hugh Mulzac Smith, 28, of Texarkana, Ark.

Officers had said Bryant was arrested at the motel after Smith, who had been apprehended earlier, had talked him into releasing Miss Vickers. Feggett was arrested at near-by Nash, Tex., later Friday night.

The three remained in jail Sunday on $25,000 bond.

Detective L. Charlie Campbell, Capt. Richard A. Meyers and Sgt. George McDonnell of the Texarkana, Tex., police moved in on the apartment and arrested Burkhalter and Tasby on the basis of information provided by an informant, Campbell said.

He said the two had shaved beards they had worn and that one was wearing a blonde woman's wig and a housecoat.

Campbell said a woman and a child were in the apartment with the men, but they weren't identified.

If You Think All 100 Watt Give Same Light You're in the Dark

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anyone who thinks all 100-watt light bulbs give off the same amount of light is completely in the dark.

"The consumer thinks that when he buys a 100-watt bulb it gives off the same amount of light as any other 100-watt bulb," said Federal Trade Commission attorney Raymond L. Rhine.

But, Rhine said, that is not the case.

So he and his colleagues at the FTC are putting final touches on a regulation to require manufacturers to specify how long their bulbs will last and how much light they put out.

The basis of the proposed regulations are luminous efficacy, measuring the amount of light produced by a glowing object.

A standard 100-watt light bulb, for example, puts out about 1,600 lumens. A standard 75-watt bulb produces about 1,300 lumens.

The luminous output among the major standard light bulbs is fairly constant, offering price-keeping forces hasn't been able to determine the amount of money as yet but it was believed to be a fairly large sum.

City and state police are investigating. They said the safe was pushed to a back room and opened.

The reason is that lumens and

Secretary Laird Fears Money Cut to Curb His Vietnamization Plan

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is described by aides as concerned that a congressional limit on spending for his Vietnamization program could slow U.S. troop withdrawals from the war.

The money restriction, placed on the amount of military aid the United States can give South Vietnam as well as neighboring Laos and Thailand, does not jeopardize announced troop pullouts.

But it could, officials say, have a definite impact in future months if the administration wanted to accelerate the turnover of weapons and equipment to South Vietnam.

Aides said Laird has been trying to persuade members of Congress not to place any arbitrary ceilings on Vietnamization spending in the budget being worked out for the fiscal year

Three Escape Jail Sunday at Camden

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Authorities were looking today for three prisoners who overpowered a jailer and escaped Sunday afternoon from the Ouachita County Jail.

Sheriff Grover Linebarrier said the three tied up jailer Simon Baxter, about 50, and escaped in Baxter's car.

The three were identified as Larry Chambers, 19, of Lee County; Bobby Sims, 17, of Chidister (Ouachita County); and L. G. Davis, 35, of Camden.

Chambers was an escapee of the Lee County Jail at Marlana and was being held at Camden after his capture in connection with the Jan. 2 wounding of Bearden City Marshal Granville Warrick.

Linebarrier said Sims was being held on a robbery charge and Davis for violation of parole.

Linebarrier said Sims and Davis asked Baxter to open their cell door to remove some trash, then jumped him and tied him with radio cord. The sheriff said the two then unlocked the cell chambers occupied with Baxter's keys.

Linebarrier said Chambers' cellmate, Willie Earl Weems, 18, who escaped the Lee County Jail with Chambers, refused to leave. Other cells weren't opened, Linebarrier said.

Baxter wasn't hurt. The jail is across the alley from the Ouachita County Courthouse.

beginning next July.

The Vietnamization plan, financed under military aid, provides South Vietnam with such things as airplanes, trucks, guns, radios and training.

Last year the Senate wrote a provision into the defense budget specifying that military aid could not exceed $2.5 billion in one year.

That came close to crimping the current rate of spending for Vietnamization, $2.2 billion annually.

According to aides, Laird fears sentiment against big U.S. commitments overseas could lead to a similar restriction on military aid in the fiscal 1971 budget soon to go to Congress.

Trying to avert such a move, Laird has been explaining to congressional leaders that Asian allies may need larger doses of military aid as the Nixon administration seeks to make them more self-reliant, aides say.

Laird argues it would not be wise to take American forces out of Vietnam without adequately preparing the South Vietnamese to fill the gap.

Laird's concern over the $2.5 billion limitation also was reflected in congressional testimony last November.

Laird said there was a possibility the Vietnamization, or aid, spending would go to a higher level in the budget year beginning next July.

Pentagon officials, keeping the 1971 budget under wraps until it is given to Congress, declined to say how much military aid is planned.

Whatever the figure, it would be in addition to the more than $20 billion budgeted for the over-all war effort.

Laird said Sunday an announcement would be made in Saigon within two days identifying the units to be pulled out of Vietnam under President Nixon's last troop withdrawal order.

Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. war commander, "will be announcing the removal of one Army division from Vietnam, one brigade, one Marine regiment, several air squadrons as well as some army support units," Laird said.

He was interviewed on the CBS radio-TV program "Face the Nation."

This withdrawal, third announced so far by the President, calls for pulling out 50,000 American combat troops and will bring to more than 100,000 the number of Americans ordered back since Nixon took office a little less than a year ago.

Cong Unable to Crack U.S. Code

SAIGON (AP) — American forces have uncovered a major North Vietnamese communications center just north of Saigon which intercepted at least 1,400 U.S. operational messages and presented a seriously compromised American field operations, official sources disclosed today.

Twelve North Vietnamese soldiers trained to speak and write English fluently were captured and another killed when the communications center was discovered three weeks ago, the sources said.

The center was located in a bunker complex in the Iron Triangle area about 25 miles north of Saigon, they said.

The sources said the North Vietnamese were not able to break authorized American codes—which frequently are changed—but many U.S. troops were using unauthorized or "home-made" codes which were easily deciphered by the North Vietnamese.

He said there is no firm evidence that the North Vietnamese interception of radio messages resulted in any American combat deaths. But he said he assumed that enemy troops were able to avoid ambushes, bombings and artillery strikes through the interceptions.

Sources said although it had been widely assumed that such North Vietnamese radio intercept stations existed in South Vietnam, this was the first such major installation uncovered.

First Division to Be Sent Into Vietnam Is Returning Home

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, the first Army division sent to Vietnam 4½ years ago, and the 26th Marine Regiment, the defenders of Khe Sanh, are being withdrawn from Vietnam.

The two units will be the first troops sent home under President Nixon's third-phase cut-back of 50,000 more troops by April 15.

Other major units leaving Vietnam in the next three months will be the 3rd Brigade of the 4th Infantry Division, three squadrons of the Air Force's 12th Tactical Fighter Wing and Navy service support units, the Command said.

These withdrawals, plus a "number of smaller combat support and service support units, will reduce the authorized strength of U.S. troops in Vietnam to 434,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has expressed concern that a congressional limitation of spending for the Vietnamization program could slow U.S. troop withdrawals from the war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot says he is exploring every avenue to secure the release of U.S. servicemen being held in North Vietnam. He said he has offered to buy their freedom with $100 million or whatever goods the North Vietnamese need.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 10-day lull in fighting across Israel's Beisan Valley has been broken with an exchange of gunfire between Israeli army units and Arab guerrillas in Jordan. The Israeli cabinet has charged that arms France is selling to Libya will probably be used against Israel.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected 7 to 1 today a challenge to the power of draft boards to compel conscientious objectors to work in hospitals.

Timothy J. Boroski, a Mount Morris, Mich., free-lance court reporter, had claimed such orders were outlawed when the 13th Amendment prohibited slavery and "Involuntary servitude."

Boroski, 28, was convicted in 1967 and sentenced to five years in prison for refusing to report for work at Harper Hospital Detroit. He had been classified a conscientious objector by a draft board in Flint, Mich., but claimed that his ministerial work for Jehovah's Witnesses entitled him to a ministerial exemption from the draft.

The government said the Selective Service program of forcing CO's to work in hospitals has constitutional authorization in the grant to Congress to "raise and support armies."

Boroski's petition for a hearing was turned down with the notation only that Justice William O. Douglas dissented. The conviction was affirmed last June by the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Some Facts From Vikings Dressing Room

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mrs. Joe Kapp, wife of the Minnesota Vikings quarterback, jokingly bought and wore a hat boosting the Kansas City Chiefs on Bourbon Street the night before the 1970 Super Bowl.

Marcia Kapp didn't realize the Chiefs wouldn't be a joke in Sunday's game.

And the Chiefs took a 23-7 victory in a fashion which had given the National Football League champion Vikings a 19-3 record-counting exhibitions, regular season games and playoffs—by cashing in on the other team's mistakes.

Perhaps Minnesota's biggest mistake was depending too long on its pass defense theory that by giving up the short ones you prevent the long ones.

Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson combined with Otis Taylor for a 45-yard touchdown pass play that ended all Viking hopes for a second half comeback.

"The Chiefs had been running a lot of hitch patterns," said corner back Earrell Mackbee. "The receiver takes two or three steps and stops. The defender needs to come back and give him a good lick."

"If the receiver breaks the tackle, you're in trouble," he added. "The ball got to Otis Taylor about the same time as I did. I felt I gave him a good lick. I fell down and when I got up, I saw the extra point team coming in, so I figured he scored."

But the Vikings already had made several costly mistakes as the Chiefs bolted a 16-0 halftime lead.

Charlie West fumbled the kickoff after Jan Stenerud's third field goal of the game in the second period, and the Chiefs quickly punched in a touchdown.

"Stenerud had been hitting them out of the end zone," West said, "but this one wasn't that far. I saw it all the way. I just dropped it."

Quarterback Joe Kapp drove the Vikings to their only touchdown in the third period. He completed 16 of 23 passes for 183 yards, but with two interceptions, before a shoulder injury forced him to leave the game. His left shoulder was to be X-rayed today to determine the extent of the injury.

In all, the Vikings had three interceptions, lost two of three fumbles and were penalized six times for 87 yards — 20 more than the Chiefs.

"We played a great football team," said Minnesota Coach Bud Grant. "They beat us. It's as simple as that. They came up with the big play, didn't fumble, moved the ball when they had to and were not hurt by the interceptions."

"We played as well as we could have today. We probably could play better tomorrow."

The word exodus means "going out." It refers to the long journey of the children of Israel from Egypt to the Promised Land.

Big Play of Game Executed Perfectly

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Alan Page got caught cheating and the Minnesota Vikings got caught on the short end of a 16-0 halftime score in Sunday's Super Bowl because of a perfectly executed play 5½ minutes before intermission.

Mike Garrett squirted five yards up the middle to score a touchdown on the play, giving the Chiefs control of the game.

Kansas City delivered the knockout punch near the end of the third quarter when Otis Taylor pulled in a short pass from Lenny Dawson, broke two tackles and rumbled 46 yards to score the last touchdown in the Chiefs' 23-7 decision over the Vikings for pro football's richest plum.

"The biggest play was the touchdown run of Garrett," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said. "When they're inside the five-yard line, they run 100 per cent of the time. They haven't passed from there yet, so we shouldn't have been surprised. Yet he scored."

The Vikings may have been looking for a run because of the Chiefs' predictability in the close-yardage situation, but they weren't looking for the play Kansas City called.

Jim Marshall, the Vikings' end was supposed to be the man trapped, but Page got cut down by Mo Moorman's block instead because he was there. "Our left tackle (Jim Tyrer) pulls to the outside, influencing the end (Marshall)," Chiefs coach Hank Stram said. "Then, we trap him (Marshall) from the inside out (with Moorman)."

What actually happened on the play, however, was that Page cheated to the outside, and he was the man in the Vikings' defensive line who took the bait as Tyrer pulled.

The other key block in the play was delivered on Vikings' middle linebacker Lonnie Warwick by Chiefs' tight end Fred Arbanas.

The result of the blocks by Moorman and Arbanas was a neat path through the middle of the Vikings' defense for Garrett. "All I had to do was run through the hole," he said.

Stram also cited Taylor's touchdown run with the short pass as the game's other deciding play. "It was a great individual effort on Otis' part," Stram said. "We figured we could throw in front of their cornerbacks and gain yardage, but Otis turned that into a touchdown play."

Taylor fended off the tackle of Earrell Mackbee at the Minnesota 35-yard line, then ran over Karl Kassulke at the Vikings' 10.

Crime-fighting Position Is Finally Filled

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, embarrassed when a judge originally picked to head a crime-fighting post took a close look at the job and backed out, has finally come up with a replacement. It has been learned Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has settled on Robert J. Gennep to head the Office of Juvenile Delinquency.

The selection of the 37-year-old Gennep, currently assistant director of the California Youth Authority, ends a two-year search for a head of the agency, which implements the Juvenile Delinquency and Control Act of 1968.

The administration's first choice to be director, Broward County, Fla., juvenile court Judge Frank A. Orlando, decided after several months he didn't want the job. But not until Finch had already presented him to the House Select Committee on Crime.

And not until after five scheduled swearing-in ceremonies were postponed—the last coming in the early fall when invitations had already been mailed and several congressmen were on hand for the ceremony.

Budget cuts and the change last year from a Democratic to a Republican administration were the reasons given by agency staffers for the time lapse in finding a new director.
